

Is diabetes associated with increased risk of getting COVID-19?

Diabetes and risks from COVID-19

April 8, 2020

Diabetes and risks from COVID-19

People with diabetes appear to be at increased risk of having a more severe COVID-19 infection, though evidence quantifying the increased risk is highly uncertain. The extent to which clinical and demographic factors moderate the relationship between diabetes and COVID-19 severity is entirely unclear due to a paucity of data.

#EvidenceCOVID

April 8th 2020

Jamie Hartmann-Boyce, Elizabeth Morris, Clare Goyder, Jade Kinton, James Perring, David Nunan,
Kamlesh Khunti

<https://www.cebm.net/covid-19/diabetes-and-risks-from-covid-19/>

